

Graduating as a Single Parent

Friday, November 6, 2015

11 a.m. to 12 p.m.

Holland Building Room 340

Mary Lloyd Barth will discuss how to achieve a college degree as a single parent with limited resources.

As a retired nonprofit director, program administrator, and grant writer, Mary Lloyd Barth is adept in leadership, management, curriculum development, and technical writing. Her passion for empowering women centers on the positive impact equity brings to all communities. Her education achievements include a Bachelor of Science degree in Psychology with certificates in Train the Trainer, Project Management, Dispute Resolution and Assertive Communication.

Presented by the

Women's Resource Center
DIXIE STATE UNIVERSITY™

