

2015-2016 Cycle

Assessment Findings

Finding per Measure

Women's Resource Center Outcome Set

Goal

Goal 2

Promote campus events that supplement our mentoring efforts

- ▼ Measure: Provide survey results designed to collect information on the extent to which participants felt a given topic was meaningful.
Indirect - Survey

Details/Description: Collect feedback through surveys from those who attended every campus event.

Acceptable Target: At least 80% of attendees' responses would respond that the events were meaningful.

Findings for Provide survey results designed to collect information on the extent to which participants felt a given topic was meaningful.

Summary of Findings: Based on our current evaluation forms, more than 80% of the attendees surveyed from our fall 2015 and spring 2016 campus events reveal positive responses -- e.g., events are either "beneficial" or "informative" with some narrative comments on how they felt motivated or inspired about the topic. Only one survey respondent from fall 2015 has no response on whether the activity was beneficial or not.

Results: Acceptable Target Achievement: Met

Actions to be Taken: However, the current evaluation form needs to be revised next SY to include survey questions that indicate specific items where they felt motivated and inspired, and how their understanding of the topic was enriched through the Q&A forum or group discussion portions.

Substantiating Evidence: Available in Taskstream

These Findings are associated with the following Actions:

2) Campus Event Survey

- ▼ Measure: Track the number of campus events offered across multiple disciplines and/or advocacies.
Direct - Other

Details/Description: Analyze the variety of speakers invited and/or the topics covered in our campus events.

Acceptable Target: At least 90% of campus events offered should focus on various disciplines and/or advocacies.

Findings for Track the number of campus events offered across multiple disciplines and/or advocacies.

Summary of Findings: Our campus events in spring 2016 and fall 2015 hit our primary target of promoting women across the disciplines. Our event topics featured women in law, literature, arts, psychology, mass media, among others. In fact, our event on body image last February 2016, which was funded by the Utah Women's Giving Circle for spring and fall 2016, tackled self-confidence issues, mental health, and mass media.

Some practical forums on self-empowerment, scholarships and mentoring, career options, and strategies for single parents were organized as well. We collaborated with the Multicultural and Diversity Center twice to promote women minorities and the Dixie Forum once to advance international women issues. To bolster our mentoring initiative, we organized the mentoring workshop (fall) and mentoring panel discussion (spring) events for our female faculty/staff. Finally, we teamed up with the DOVE Center for a weekly DOVE Advocacy Service in our office (Holland 489) for all victims of sexual assault regardless of gender.

Results: Acceptable Target Achievement: Met

Actions to be Taken: We will continue to think of other forums/events/activities that feature women across the disciplines and also promote resources for female students to help them meet their academic and professional goals.
